FENIZO AFX is a technical and aesthetic response to two key interior design trends: smart materials and matte surfaces.

Now available in 18 timeless colors, suitable for both vertical and horizontal applications.

FENIZO AFX is characterized by the use of next-generation acrylic resins, hardened and stabilized through a core curing process using NCT (Nano Core Technology).

With low light reflectivity, the FENIZO AFX surface offers an extremely opaque, soft-touch finish with anti-fingerprint properties.

It also features the ability to heal superficial micro-scratches, ensuring long-lasting elegance and performance.
